Scouting Ireland

is built on a shared respect for the uniqueness of young people.

We believe in the abilities of young people and their wish to discover and harness their own potential.

We help them achieve this by providing them with the support and encouragement they need.

“We accept each young person as he or she is – a unique human being with his or her own personal background and experience of life thus far, variations in needs, capacities, interests and pace of development.”

‘Scouting: An Educational System’ WOSM 1998

This document has been produced by the National Youth Programme Committee of Scouting Ireland, with the assistance of the Programme Development Team. We used the methodology outlined in the Renewed Approach to Programme document as devised by the World Organisation of Scout Movements. The Educational Objectives have been developed in respect of each of the areas of personal growth outlined in the aim of the Association, building on the Educational Proposal. Educational Objectives are outlined for each Stage of Development of young people as outlined in the Stages of Development document. To inform our work, we made use of surveys completed by young members of the association, young people not involved in Scouting, adult members of the association and other stakeholders including parents, teachers and community representatives. We also received valuable input and guidance from Jacqueline Collier, former Director Youth Programme, European Scout Region and João Armando Gonçalves, European Scout Committee.
